

The Evalia login page features a striking, full-screen animated “Liquid Ether” background – a slowly shifting gradient and light effect that lends an ethereal, futuristic vibe to the interface ¹. Centered on this dynamic backdrop is a sleek glassmorphic form container: a translucent, frosted-glass panel with soft blur, subtle shadows and rounded corners that floats above the background ² ¹. On load, the form gently fades or slides into place, giving a polished entrance to the login form and separating it visually from the animated scene behind it ². The form uses clean, modern typography for its headings and labels (for example, legible sans-serif fonts like Poppins, Montserrat or Roboto) to reinforce a professional look ³. Each input field is styled for clarity and responsiveness: when a user focuses or types in a field, its placeholder label smoothly floats upward so the field context remains visible in a neat, modern way ⁴. Interactive feedback is provided by subtle hover and focus effects – for instance, buttons or inputs may highlight or glow when hovered or focused – which adds an extra layer of polish and usability ³. Importantly, all elements are fully responsive: the frosted form and its inputs scale gracefully to different screen sizes, ensuring mobile and desktop users get the same clean, balanced layout ⁵. Altogether, this design results in an elegant, engaging login experience: the animated Liquid Ether background sets an evocative tone, while the glassy form container, crisp typography, and interactive input effects create a clear, user-friendly entry point into Evalia.
